

Sell down your end-of-year inventory:

Don't leave your overstock inventory out in the cold this winter.

It's time to make room and move aging inventory!

- New model year inventory is arriving
- Old model year inventory is discounted
- Inventories are rebounding
- New and used prices are cooling
- End of year shoppers are ready to buy

These factors can work in your favor - if you avoid the freeze.

Leverage VIN-specific strategies to move your inventory this winter:

- 1 Under-engaged VINs
Identify the VINs on the lot that have not received enough VDP views to sell before aging.
- 2 Used VINs over 60 DOL
Create movement on used vehicles with long days-on-lot metrics to make room for new inventory.
- 3 New VINs nearing 90+ days
Invest additional dollars against VINs that are inflating your holding costs.
- 4 Soon-to-be-discounted VINs
Identify in-demand units with higher price points. Instead of dropping prices, increase shopper traffic.
- 5 Select makes/models
Align your strategy with your volume goals to move the inventory that makes a difference to your bottom line.

Not sure which VINs to tackle first?

We can help. Use the Lotlinx VIN View Optimizer (VVO) tool to build your winter inventory strategy.

The Lotlinx VVO gives you the power to assess the distribution of marketing spend, VDP views, shopper engagement, and more for every VIN on your lot.

Dealers using the Lotlinx VVO have 100% visibility into their inventory data.

Don't let your sales cool this season. Move your inventory with our VIN View Optimizer.

This special FREE offer is available now through December 31st.
